PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am an MCA student with a strong interest in learning emerging technologies and developing real-world applications. I have a solid foundation in C and C++ along with practical experience in React.js, Node.js, HTML, and CSS for building responsive web interfaces. Additionally, I work with Python, SQL, and Power BI to analyze data and create efficient solutions. I am passionate about problem-solving and enjoy designing meaningful, user-friendly applications that deliver value through technology.
